For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs.
No. 76 State Street, opposite Kilby Street, Boston
After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years continues to secure patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions and legal and other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

THE BOSTON FIRE

PRESIDENT GRANT,
Neither did it destroy the most appropriate
SEWING MACHINE ATTACHMENT ever invented. This simple little machine, which is no less than Wilder's New Bobbin Winder, winds the thread on a bobbin without the use of a person's hands, as even as thread is wound on a spool by the manufacturers. This, as every lady knows, is a very important thing in order to get an even tension, and it is very hard to do without those machines, which not only save an abundance of time, but wind one-third more thread on a bobbin. The Attachment is confined to the machine in the same place as the old one, and the price is within the reach of all. Can be seen in operation at

THE LATEST FASHIONS

THE ENGLISH WALKING JACKET.

The English walking jacket is a stylish and serviceable garment, which takes the first place among the imported fall styles. It is an easy fitting, convenient wrap, to be worn over fall and winter suits, and is plain enough for travelling, shopping, etc., yet sufficiently handsome to be worn with all but the most dressy street toilettes. It is most largely imported in the thick, soft shaggy cloth now called camel's hair cloth, but formerly known as chinchilla, and in heavy diagonal cloths showing wide vertical ribs. Dark olive, blue, bronze, slate and myrtle green cloths are preferred this season to black ones. The trimming is usually bands, revers, cuffs, etc., of velvet or of repped silk of the shade of the cloth, piped or corded on the edge, or else bladed with the new yak braid. The buttons are of steel or pearl, colored to match; or of oxidized silver. If a more dressy garment is preferred, cashmere or camel's hair is used, with silk and fringe or yak lace for the trimming. This wrap may be made of the material of the suit, though this is seldom done, as it is more economical to have a cloth jacket of some neutral tint, that may be worn with various dresses. In the suit illustrated the jacket is of olive green camel's hair cloth, with a dress of serge of the same shade. The waist of this costume is a basque of simple shape. The open front overskirt of which a pattern is given, is lapped below the belt, has a tunnel shaped Watteau fold on each side, and the long black breadths are very simply draped.

FRENCH COSTUMES.

Costumes for the street form an important part of fall importations. They are made with skirts long enough to touch the floor, when worn in the house, but are drawn up by rings and drawing strings before going out; and when a mantle is added, the street suit is complete. The redingote reappears. A basque and overskirt are also retained, in altered shapes, however, and there is an effort to simplify ornament and use more flat trimmings on skirts than now cling very closely to the figure, and are decidedly abridged in width. To begin at the foundation, the lower skirt measures about three and a quarter yards around the bottom, and is worn over a support or bust e almost as long as the back breadths. This support called the Pompadour bustle, gives the stylish gradual slope behind from belt to foot, very different from the abruptly projecting tournure lately worn, and leaves the sides and front perfectly smooth and clinging. The skirt trimming promotes this appearance of close front and oblique back drapery by being lengthwise and flat in front, horizontal and in rippling wavy flounces behind. For instance, the three front breadths of many skirts are innocent of ruffles even across the foot, but have perpendicular puffs of reversed pleats, or flat side bands, or else shirred puffings extending from waist to toe. On the back breadths are five or seven flounces, or else a Spanish flounce with many ruffles, or perhaps, three large panier puffs are placed, one after another down the back breadth, or it may be there is but one puff, draped into shape by an elaborate scarf sash. Another simple fancy that promises to be popular is that of putting a single straight fold of the material, five or six inches wide (after being doubled or lined) down the front seams of the skirt, and placing a row of buttons quite close together thereon. This fold forms a pretty side trimming, there are then three narrow gathered flounces across the foot of the front breadth and one or two wide flounces on all the other widths. French dress makers do not line silk skirts. They merely face them with stiff crinoline, and cover the crinoline with substantial mohair poplin that does not wear out easily by friction on the floor, a thick passementerie cord is set on the edge instead of the usual worsted braid. The top of the skirt is sewed as plainly as possible to the belt in front and on the sides, having only a small pleat under the seams, and the back breadths have two large box pleats.

OVERSKIRTS.

Among overskirts the round, long, apron front now worn is again seen, but suffers a change by being opened up by the belt behind. This opening is trimmed up each side, the back breadths are not draped in the middle, but are formed into two long points by being caught up very high on the sides.—There is also a novelty, called the chatelaine overskirt, consisting of two plain breadths of the silk about a yard long, lined with thinner silk, but utterly untrimmed, attached to the belt in box pleats, and worn hanging from the back and sides, just as chatelaine trinkets hang in front. Add the scarf like fronts of the new mantilla and the wearer of all this flying drapery, each piece of which moves separately, as she walks, is a fit subject for the caricaturist's pencil. Yet ladies just returned from abroad are thus arrayed, and consider themselves well dressed. Basques have attained the perfection of shape, and are not radically changed. The revers, with coat collar and ruff, are its conspicuous features, jockey basques. Many open overvests in the way seen and appear on both single and double breasted in Fig. 4, on the first page of Bazar No 38, Vol. 6. The rough and round revers, with the back turned up, is very stylish. Broad backs formed of four pieces of the same width are found among the new dresses oftener than those with wide side bodies and narrow middle pieces. Thick cords are again used in the armholes and as edging for the front of basque skirts, instead of piping fold. The lower part of the basque is formed into fanciful lappets, or else has two hollow plaits, is either square or plaited, and is often edged with lace or fringe, while the front is plainly corded. The chatelaine basque is a decided novelty, and accompanies the chatelain overskirt already described. It has a plain chatelaine front sloping over the hips, and held there by whalebones that extend to the cord which edges it. The back has two long swallow tails, with bows on the end, and the whole is very like a gentleman's dress coat. The coat collar and coat sleeve complete the resemblances. This basque is becoming to very full figures.

The demi polonaise, with long, pointed front, rounding shorter behind under a basque is the style chosen for dresses that are to be worn both in the house and street. It is made closer-fitting, and single breasted, but has the inevitable revers and collar.

HINTS TO DRESSMAKERS.

A revers collar in front, with a box-plaited ruff behind, is a stylish way of finishing the neck of basques, and indulges at once both the prevalent caprice for the ruff and the gentleman's coat collar. Basques now have the wide English back formed of four broad pieces of the same width at the waist, and the waist is not defined by buttons. Two cords on the edge of basques are far more stylish than any finish of lace or fringe, though the latter is sometimes placed on the back, while the fronts are plainly corded. Instead of full postillion plaits, plain lappets are sewed in the [illegible] [illegible] ones that are [illegible] [illegible] ones worn last year. They are sometimes merely scalloped and needle-worked around the armholes and basque edge, and a velvet ruff is invariably added; others are rich with jet galloon, jet fringe and lace; while a more stylish fancy still is to border them with a band of ostrich feathers, some are gay with colored embroidery. The new blue steel beads are mingled with jet fringes for trimming black silks and velvets. A black velvet revers collar, with velvet ruff, lined with corded silk, is sold for wearing with various dresses, price $25. The silk or woolen ruff is now as universal for finishing the neck of dresses as bias bands have been hitherto. Instead of lining this ruff with a color, it is best to have it entirely of the color of the dress, and wear inside a silk ruff of any color that may be becoming, and still another ruff inside this of white muslin, lace, or crepe lisse.

FRENCH AND ENGLISH CALICO SUITS

Beautiful suits for morning, either for house or street, are made of the new dark calicoes. Those with black grounds brightened by a shell or star of yellow, or else dark blue with stripes or lightning streaks lines of white, make up most stylishly. They have the double breasted redingote, belted, with two rows of smoked-pearl buttons down the front, and a single skirt with two lapped, gathered flounces.—[Harper's Bazar.

There is great exultation in New South Wales, the oldest of the British Australian colonies, over the discovery of coal in great abundance within that vast territory, and a correspondent writing from Sidney declares that "when the fires of Great Britain are extinguished and the furnaces are cold, Australia is to rise as the Greater Britain." We are told that, last year, nearly 1,000,000 tons of coal were exported from a single port, and a railway is now projected from Sidney, the capital, to a coal region only thirty-six miles distant, where it will tap deposits of prodigious extent and excellent quality.

JOHN H. LYND, - - PROPRIETOR.

FRIDAY, SEPT. 26, 1873.

A DEMOCRATIC ADVISER.

Admirers of consistency will be interested in noticing how readily such an exponent of Democracy as Reverdy Johnson fling to the winds all his preachment about strict construction and the danger of arbitrary assumption of power, when brought, to the test by the financial emergency in New York. It would be hard to find a stronger contrast than that presented by the calm judgment of the Republican Executive, and the trepidation of this Democratic adviser, who vehemently urged the transfer of the national funds to the banks, as the only salvation for the country. Mr Johnson has long been regarded by the Democrats as one of their leading statesmen, and in his time has had a great deal to say about the evils of straining the legal limitations of authority; finding no excuse for deviations even in the trying circumstances of a civil war. The other day he found himself in the midst of a scene of excitement and was suddenly called upon to express an opinion as to the proper course for the President of the United States to pursue. How he met the emergency is told in the following report in the New York World:

Ex-Senator Reverdy Johnson arrived at the Fifth Avenue Hotel early in the forenoon yesterday. He was found in his room adjacent to those occupied by the President and his suite, and assented his willingness to give opinions. He said that he had just come from a visit to the President, and had had a long conversation with him and Secretary Richardson on the proposed policy of the Government in relieving the market and staying the panic. He thought that the President was not disposed to call into action the reserve fund of forty millions which the Government had locked up in its national vaults.

"But the Government has no legal right to call upon the fund for the purpose desired?"

"True, that is the great stumbling block. I admit that the use of this fund for any purpose beyond that by which the law directs is strictly unconstitutional. But in times like this there should be no hesitancy on the part of the Government to call into requisition all available means to save the country. I urged the President strongly upon this point, but seemingly without effect. I think the public generally would with almost unanimity sanction the movement. Should President Grant decide to make use of this fund to stay the panic, I feel confident that Congress at its next session would approve such action. If I was President I would not hesitate an instant. The country is now in such a condition that immediate relief is at once necessary, and this being the only fund from which relief can be drawn I hold it to be the duty of the Chief Magistrate to use this fund for whatever purpose may be urgently necessary. I do not mean to say that it can be used by lawful authority for the purpose proposed, but I do say that in times of danger rules lose their force and should, if necessity demands, it be avoided. That such a time has arrived I firmly believe. Why, at times even the Habeas Corpus act is suspended, and surely this legal protection is of more infinite importance than the preservation of the Government reserve fund. In England it has been done on numberless occasions, and each time Parliament has indemnified the Crown for its action."

"You are of the opinion, then, that there is an absolute necessity for Government to interfere?"

"I am. I do not see how the country can be saved without it. It must necessarily affect the Eastern agriculturalists and farmers generally, and when that time arrives the widespread desolation is complete. The markets for every kind of goods must be to some extent affected by the panic, and I understand the rumor now prevails that lines are already forming for a run on the savings banks, which will, of course, cause a general suspension."

The Supreme Court of Massachusetts has just given an opinion that the sale of liquor in that State in violation of the prohibitory law is a crime under the provisions of the Constitution of the United States authorizing the extradition of criminals in such cases. In the case before the Court, an offender against the law having escaped to Vermont and been brought back to Massachusetts, an attempt was made to secure his release on habeas corpus. The Court, however, in accordance with the judgment pronounced by the Supreme Court of the United States on the constitutionality of the prohibitory law, declined to interfere in his behalf.

PURCHASE OF BONDS. Assistant Treasurer Hillhouse of New York states that he has exhausted his limit and will make no further purchases of 5-20 bonds until he receives further instructions from Washington, having already paid out the $12,000,000 authorized. A Washington special despatch says that Secretary Richardson has proposed to the President that the purchase of bonds in New York shall close with the $12,000,000 already bought, in order to leave the Department in a position to assist the merchants if they require it.

The N Y Evening Post of Wednesday, in an article urging confidence, says of the panic:

The whole difficulty began in a little circle having its centre in Wall street, and the almost universal feeling is that it ought to be confined there. Very few banks or financial houses and no strictly commercial houses in any part of the country have failed on account of this panic. Everybody feels that the excitement ought to be checked where it is, but the trouble is that everbody is too apt to indulge in a feeling of distrust and despondency. With the knowledge that there is plenty of money in the hands of the people, goes the knowledge that they are afraid to pay it out. The efforts of the press and merchants should, therefore, be continued to promote confidence, which is the key to an easier money market and that prosperity which every legitimate circumstance seems to favor.

At the New York Republican State Convention at Utica, Wednesday, Hon. Stewart L Woodford, on taking the chair as presiding officer, addressed the Convention as follows:

"Let us in faithful obedience to law and the enforcement of its behests, emulate the spirit and emulate the example of our silent but sure President, who stood unmoved and resolute amid the storm of financial disaster that swept the avenues and streets of the metropolis on Saturday last. Great amid the shock of battle, he was greater and more self contained amid the crash of credit and monetary disaster. Let us write in letters of gold over the portals of the Temple of the Republic, these brave, strong words of Ulysses S. Grant: "The private citizen may possibly break the law if he will accept the consequences, but the President of the United States cannot in time of peace violate the law and be justly excused." And let me say to our Democratic friends: "If this be Cæsarism, make the most of it."

The New York Graphic, which is not inclined to be over liberal in its praise of the Administration, says of the President's action during the panic:

The President is winning praises from all parties for his firmness in refusing to illegally tamper with the currency. He was urged by business men and capitalists of skill and reputation, including Mr. Vanderbilt himself, to issue the reserved fund of currency, but refused to do so because the act would have been illegal exercise of power. The journal which has made itself so absurdly conspicuous by its clamor about "Cæsarism" will find it difficult to explain this fact. To make himself master of the whole business of the country, and to accomplish this by a bold disregard of law, and a conspicuous exercise of personal power, would have been precisely the sort of thing which a "Cæsar" would have been eager to do. Instead of this, President Grant withstood the powerful influences brought to bear upon him; and contented himself with ordering the purchase of bonds, which he has the right to do. This careful reverence for law is not the mark of the coming "Cæsar."

It is now stated that the defalcation of Carleton, of the Union Trust Co, will be over $400,000. The company, however, expect to be able to resume shortly, and produce their ability to pay dollar for dollar.

WAGES IN EUROPE. After reading such statements as the following, the wonder is, not that emigration is not more rapid, but that so many people in European countries manage to scrape enough money together with which to seek more profitable fields of labor:

"Sixty cents a day is considered good wages for a working man in any of the European countries, except Great Britain, where the wages are somewhat higher. In the Tyrol silk region and in Italy, they often do not get more than ten cents. In the country in Germany ten cents is the common pay. Women there often get but five cents. In Sweden, men often work from 4 o'clock in the morning till 9 in the evening, and do not get any more. During the late war many poor women in Berlin were hired to knit stockings for the soldiers for five cents. The profits of the poor who keep petty shops, sell trinkets in the streets or act as sutlers, do not average more than three or four cents. Barbers in Berlin, since the raising of their prices, get five cents for hair cutting and two and a half cents for shaving. Servants at hotels get from three to eight dollars a month. Servant girls in private families often get but ten dollars a year. Sometimes these classes cannot get work at any price."

THE PHILADELPHIA COAL MARKET.—The Philadelphia Ledger of Monday says the total amount of anthracite and bituminous coal marketed during the present coal year is 16,074,035 tons, an increase over last year of 745,240 tons. The Ledger adds:

The coal tonnage last week, of both anthracite and bituminous, is the heaviest of any one week in the history of the coal trade. It reached, as will be seen by our figures, the enormous aggregate of 534,024 tons. As the most of the increased tonnage of nearly three-quarters of a million of tons went to new markets in the West, there has been little if any increase of seaboard tonnage, thus showing that there will be a continued demand for coal to the end of the season, which will scarcely exceed ten weeks. At present there is an active demand for coal, and prices hold firmly up.

At Port Richmond for the week ending the 13th instant, the receipts of coal were 56,000 tons, the shipments 64,000 tons, leaving 60,000 tons on hand. There have been but few vessels in port during the week and the demand for them continues active. Freights we quote as follows: $2.50 per ton to Boston, $2.10 per ton to Providence, and $1.40 per to New York.

THE LATE M. COSTE. A cable despatch announces the death of M. Jean Marie Cyprian Victor Jacques Coste, the eminent French Naturalist and Pisciculturist, to whose untiring efforts his country owes its present success in the propagation of fishes. He was born in May, 1807, but his first great popular act was the drawing up of a report in favor of fish culture with M. Milne Edwards, which was considered sufficient authority for the organization of an establishment at Huningue, which became the means of enriching the River Rhone with 200,000 salmon and trout within two years. Four years later M. Coste began similar experiments in the lakes of the Bois de Boulogne, which were also successful. The literary productions of the deceased gentleman were widely known and fully sustained his reputation as a scientist. The most important of these were his "Instructions pratiques sur la Pisciculture;" "Cours d' embryogenie comparee;" and "Oyologie du Kanguroo."

It is possible that a momentary yielding to the legal tender delusion may cure a more mischievous delusion with a very moderate application of the proposed relief. The immediate effect of issuing more greenbacks cannot possibly be mischievous. The mischief would result from keeping them out of employment in business after the crisis is over, and against this the most effective precautions ought to be taken.—N. Y. World.

THE BROWN-BIGLIN RACE. A Halifax despatch says the fog early Wednesday morning caused a postponement of the boat race till 3 o'clock when it was clearer although rain fell. The start was made a few minutes past 3 P. M., Brown leading Biglin to the turning buoy, when they both pulled splendidly up to the home stretch. But Brown had gained some two hundred yards back, and all efforts of Biglin were vain. Brown made the five miles in 36 minutes 45 seconds, Biglin coming in thirty seconds later. Biglin admitted being fairly beaten.

The general cry is for a few more millions of the national currency; the public confidence in this universal paper circulation of the country is unshaken, and here we have a basis of security against any general financial disturbance which we never possessed under any other system.—N. Y. Herald.

CHARADE. IN THREE PARTS.

My first is a country on the other side of the world with a population of about 400,000,000. The people subsist chiefly on rice and rats, and the chief product of the country is

TEA.

My second as seen in this country consists of the dried leaves of several plants of the genus Thea belonging to the natural order of Ternstromiaceae. The leaves are two or three inches long and half an inch to an inch broad, and of elliptical, oblong shape. These leaves, when properly prepared, make a very delicious and gently stimulating beverage which is among women very much the same as Thackery says the cigar is among men—the great unbosomer of secrets.

My third is just the same place as my whole, being the best place in the State of Maine to buy the best Teas, Coffees, Spices, &c. &c. For the least money.

THE ANSWER

My First is CHINA
My Second is TEA
My Third is STORE.

And my whole is the celebrated establishment called the China Tea Store. The attention of families in the Country is respectfully called to the fact that they can save considerable money and get a better article if they will club together and send to the CHINA TEA STORE. [illegible] will tell you the same. We have always a fresh and perfect stock of CANNED GOODS and all FANCY GROCERIES. EVERYTHING WARRANTED.

DOMESTIC NEWS.

THE FINANCIAL CRISIS!

A BETTER FEELING IN NEW YORK!

HOWES & MACY To Resume!

Block in Foreign Exchange!

Apprehensions of Trouble!

THE BANKS RUNNING SMOOTHLY!!

NO PURCHASE OF 1874 BONDS!

APPEAL OF THE PRODUCE EXCHANGE!

NO RUNS ON SAVINGS BANKS!

CHEERFUL.

New York, Sept. 25—7.45 A. M. The temper of the Fifth Avenue Hotel crowd last night was cheerful, and all the morning papers take an encouraging view of the situation.

GOVERNMENT FUNDS.

The London house of Clews & Co. held $150,000 of Government money in consolar fees and $12,000 of the funds appropriated for defraying the expenses of the Geneva arbitration.

A Washington special says the Government business with Jay Cooke, McCulloch & Co. has stopped and its account will probably be transferred to the house of H. S. Morgan & Co.

The U. S. Chilian Minister, Mr. Root, loses $4,000 by Cooke's failure.

JAY COOKE & CO.

The members of Jay Cooke & Co.'s firm meet daily and have decided not to sacrifice their securities in order to meet their obligations, but to wait the restoration of public confidence.

WALL STREET QUIET.

9.45 A. M.—Wall street has resumed something like its natural appearance and the excitement consequent on the panic is rapidly subsiding. There have been rumors of suspension this morning but there is no truth in them.

PROPOSAL FOR DISCOUNTS.

The banking association will to-day consider a proposition submitted by George Opdyke that all banks shall discount all undoubtedly good paper which may be presented for discount, thus easing their mercantile customers, who may be seriously feeling the pressure of the money market, further, that should any bank be overburdened with paper it should be relieved by others by being allowed to use notes as they now use other collaterals, subject to the criticism of the committee.

A FORCIBLE MEASURE.

Cabs were frequently driven pell mell into the panic-breeding crowds in Wall and Broad streets yesterday in order to disperse them and prevent their hammering down the stock list.

REFUSAL.

Noon—Secretary Richardson declines to anticipate the 1874 bonds which come due in December and January.

A BETTER FEELING.

A tour among the banking firms and brokers offices and a visit to the Sub-Treasury this afternoon shows still further improvement in the feeling. Confidence is much restored and the belief is that matters will soon assume a decided improvement.

CONFIDENT OF RESUMING.

Henry Clews & Co., Fisk & Hatch and Howes & Macy are now confident of resuming soon. They claim to have more than sufficient assets to meet all liabilities. Everything is quiet up town. There is no run on savings banks.

PROPOSITIONS OF THE PRODUCE EXCHANGE.

2 P. M.—At a meeting of the Produce Exchange to-day the following resolutions were passed:

Whereas, The critical condition of the commercial interests of the country require immediate relief by the removal of the block in negotiating foreign Exchange, we respectfully suggest to the Secretary of the Treasury the following plans for relief in this extraordinary emergency:

First—That currency be immediately issued to banks or bankers upon satisfactory evidence that gold has been placed in special deposit in the Bank of England by their correspondents in London to the credit of the United States, to be issued solely in purchasing commercial bills of Exchange.

Second, That the President of the United States and Secretary of the Treasury are respectfully requested to order the immediate pre-payment of the outstanding loan of the United States due January 1st, 1874.

CASH TRANSACTIONS.

All business done at the Produce Exchange is on a strictly cash basis. Prices are tending downward and many products are salable only at prices below the quotations. No failures are reported. Parties who purchased stuff to [illegible] for it.

[illegible]

In the Union Trust Co.'s [illegible]

ing to the missing Secretary was opened to-day and found to contain $25,000 in U. S. bonds, which had been supposed to be lost.

STILL MISSING.

Nothing has yet been heard from Carlton, and it is said that everything is being done to accomplish his capture.

THE BANKS SQUARE.

All clearings at the Clearing House have been satisfactorily made. The brokers are anxious for an easy return to stock operations, and the banks for an easy return to legitimate banking business. The Clearing House issued about $3,000,000 of the new certificates.

The Sub-Treasury paid out $7000 in gold coin on account of interest and $92,000 for called bonds.

CARD FROM HOWES & MACY.

3.45 P. M.—Messrs. Howes & Macy, who suspended yesterday, are out in a circular proposing to continue business as usual; receiving special deposits in trust to a new account, to be used only in payment of the respective checks of depositors; the firm to pay off present indebtedness as fast as they can collect on their loans and securities. The firm state that they have not pledged any of their collaterals and owe no borrowed money. Their resumption is regarded as an encouraging sign.

THE BONDS OF 1874.

A Washington special says the Attorney General and Secretary Richardson had a conference to-day as to the power to redeem bonds due January, 1874. The Act of 1869 says: "but none of said interest bearing obligations, not already due, shall be redeemed or paid before maturity; unless at that time U. S. notes shall be convertible into coin at the option of the holders; and unless at such time bonds bearing a lower rate of interest than the bonds to be redeemed, can be sold at par in gold."

From this it would appear that the Secretary cannot now redeem bonds due January, 1874.

HENRY CLEWS & CO state that a large part of the liabilities of their London house for the New York firm are acceptances for account of various merchants who will meet them, having in hand the goods against which the acceptances were drawn.

IN STOCK CIRCLES there is a much better feeling and clearances to a considerable extent have relieved the brokers. The fact that the brokers are beginning to make these settlements quietly among themselves is one of the most cheering indications of an early revival of trade.

THE CLEARING HOUSE Committee issued to-day $3,000,000 in certificates, making a total of $15,000,000. Clearing House statements: Currency exchanges, $42,292,755; Currency balances, $3,363,535; gold exchanges, $919,280; gold balances, $312,720.

THE CLOSE OF THE DAY.

6 P. M. The day closed without any further failures nor any fresh outbreak of excitement. The banks to-day in the Clearing House Association pooled their legal tender notes as provided by yesterday's resolutions. One or two which proved exceptionally strong refused at first to put their legal tenders in but finally concluded to rather than be expelled from the Association.

SERIOUS TROUBLE IN FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

The dead lock in foreign exchanges is now at its greatest point of danger, as it involves not only our foreign trade, but every department of domestic trade from the shipper of produce from this port to the grower of grain at the west or the cotton at the south. Should this continue a few days longer it might produce serious troubles.

THE SIGNS OF ENCOURAGEMENT, aside from this are that the banks are gaining in deposits and that their machinery for going through the crisis is working satisfactorily.

SUB-TREASURY DISBURSEMENTS.

The actual disbursements of greenbacks for the purchase of bonds by the Sub-Treasury since Saturday is $13,300,000, not $25,000,000 as was rumored.

WISCONSIN.

FUSION STATE CONVENTION.

Milwaukie, Sept. 24. The Democratic and Liberal State Convention to-day nominated the following ticket: for Governor, Wm. R. Taylor; Lieut. Governor, C. D. Barker; Treasurer, Ferdinand Kuhn; Secretary, Peter Doyle; Attorney General, A. Scott Sloan; Superintendent of Schools, Edward Searing.

The Reformers' Convention, which adjourned from yesterday, to-day united with the Democrats' and Liberals' Convention and adopted resolutions favoring cheap transportation, the improvement of navigable waters of Wisconsin at the expense of the general Government; opposing the protective tariff law, back pay, monopolies, free passes to members of the Legislature, Credit Mobilier and corrupt legislation; demanding rotation in office and careful preservation by the State of whatever remains of our once magnificent school fund, and such legislation as shall relieve the masses of the people from unnecessary burdens in the number and cost of text books for public schools.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

MONEY MARKET TIGHT—NO FAILURES.

Charleston, S. C., Sept. 25. Money is so stringent here that no obligations are contracted, and all business is limited in amount. There is some demand for cotton at low figures, but the difficulty in negotiating exchange stops sales, and relief from that source is slow. Factors would accept low rates for most articles of produce. Paper falling due is renewed in full or with a small payment on account and creditors are disposed to be indulgent. There have been no failures. The banks pay their checks as usual and there has not been any symptom of a run.

The money stringency is increasing. There is no run upon the banks here. The Charleston branch of the National Freedmen's Bank is exacting 60 day's notices from depositors, but all local banks are paying checks as usual.

LOUISIANA.

HEALTH OF NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, Sept. 25. The general health of the city was never better at this season. The president of the Board of Health, in an official statement to-day, mentions the fact that 79 days have elapsed since the first case of yellow fever occurred, and that to date the number of deaths from the disease has not averaged one and a half per day. He also states that there are now only 27 cases under treatment and most of these are convalescent. The cases are all remote from business centres.

THE BANKS.

At a meeting of all the bank presidents in this city except two it was resolved to pay no checks for more than $100; all larger checks to be certified. This arrangement to continue for thirty days. This action they consider precautionary to prevent a drain.

RAVAGES OF YELLOW FEVER INCREASING.

Shreveport, Sept. 25. There were 19 interments to-day. The fever which seemed to have abated yesterday broke out with increased energy last night, and this morning many new cases occurred in this city and the suburbs. The disease is pronounced to be genuine yellow fever of the most malignant type.

INDIANA.

THE BANKS SOUND.

Indianapolis, Sept. There was considerable excitement here this morning by the announcement of precautionary measures adopted by the Chicago and Cincinnati banks which were at first reported as having totally suspended. The excitement was heightened at noon by the suspension of the banking house of Woolen, Webb & Co, owing mainly to the return of their drafts by the suspended Trust Co. of New York. There was quite a heavy run on Ritzinger's Bank and on the Indianapolis savings banks by a class of generally small depositors, and some few persons withdrew their money from other banks. The First National Bank, instead of closing at the usual hour, kept open an hour later to give an opportunity to withdraw money if wished, and when it closed it had received more money than it had paid out. It is not thought there will be any further trouble.

Small sums are paid on demand; but a few days notice will be exacted for large payments. All of these banks have a handsome surplus and the National and State banks were never in better condition.

FIRE.

The Seniors' house of the Episcopal Academy at Cheshire was burned this morning. All the other Academy buildings were preserved. No one was injured. Most of the articles belonging to the boys were saved. The townspeople have opened their houses and the pupils are well provided for.

HEAVY DEFALCATION.

It appears that A. J. Hine, Cashier of the National Bank of Ansonia, 10 miles from this place, has been using the funds of that bank for speculation. The surplus of forty thousand dollars is all gone. He also loses his private fortune. The full extent of the loss is not as yet ascertained. The bank is supposed to be solvent.

THE TREASURY BALANCES to-day are:

Currency, less the amount paid for bonds in New York and not reported,	$14,764,419
Special deposit of legal tenders for the redemption of certificates of deposit,	33,725,000

Legal Tenders outstanding,	356,000,000

A CABINET MEETING.

The President will arrive to night and there will be a Cabinet meeting to morrow which will have the weighty financial matters for consideration by the heads of the Government departments and considerable interest is felt in the result. No official here has any idea that there will be a called session of Congress with a view to relieve the financial difficulties.

ARRIVAL OF THE PRESIDENT—CONFERENCE WITH SECRETARY RICHARDSON—FUTURE TREASURY DISBURSEMENTS.

President Grant and family arrived here this evening and immediately proceeded to the Executive Mansion. At about 8 o'clock Secretary Richardson called and for more than an hour he and the President talked over the financial situation. They came to the conclusion that all the relief necessary to be afforded had been afforded by the Treasury for the legitimate business of the country. Consequently the Treasury will PAY OUT NO MORE CURRENCY than may be required in its ordinary disbursements. It will buy no more bonds, at present nor any sterling exchange. This information comes from official sources. The President and Secretary of the Treasury are satisfied that they have done

ALL IN THEIR POWER legitimately to retrieve the financial disasters by the use of money accumulated in the Treasury in the purchase of bonds.

THE RESERVE UNTOUCHED.

Not one dollar of the $44,000,000 reserve has been drawn or used by the Secretary, although he repeats that he will use it to a very limited extent if it should become necessary to do so, not for the purpose of inflating the currency, but to pay ordinary expenses with an intention of restoring the amount as soon as circumstances will allow.

THE DECISION of the President and Secretary of the Treasury disposes of the report that the payment of November interest, and the redemption of the January bonds, would be anticipated. There is no such intention. The Secretary advised the President the course he pursued in relation to numerous enquiries and propositions, and received the President's unhesitating approval.

Not Exactly a D. H. An economical fellow crept into a box car at Sebec station yesterday, intending to get a free ride to Milo; but he was seen by one of the railroad employes, who quietly shut and locked the car door and informed the conductor. At Milo the latter official took pains to call the name of the station close by the car, whereupon the inmate commenced to shout and kick the door, and quite a crowd gathered on the platform to see the result of the affair. The conductor demanded the fare before opening the door; but the fellow said he had not a cent. He was then informed that his "free ride" would be prolonged to Oldtown. At hearing this he "caved," and passing out the requisite amount of scrip he was released and sneaked away through the crowd about the most unhappy looking chap that has been seen in this region for years.

Late in the afternoon word was brought to Hampden that the missing man had been seen at Ellingwood's Corner, where he formerly resided. A number of interviews with leading dry goods men of New York were published in Wednesday evening papers. All affirm that though business is rather dull the houses themselves were never in better condition and the rumors of failures among them are entirely groundless.

Pulmonary Diseases.—Harbor Grade, Newfoundland, Dec 9th, 1871.—Jas. I. Fellows Esq.—Dear Sir: We are receiving orders almost daily from the Outports for your invaluable Syrup of Hypophosphites, and the sale is steadily increasing. I truly believe it has done more good than any medicine yet discovered in the cure of consumption, bronchitis, asthma, whooping cough, and kindred diseases. It is the only medicine we have which cures those diseases by strengthening the nervous system; and as it is also what we call a sound chemical preparation, I predict for it a more extended demand than any other remedy in existence. AFTER-WISDOM.

A swallow, seeking where to lay its head,
And where its little fledglings might be bred,
Had built its curious nest beneath the eaves
Of an old farm-house, where the cruel thieves
Who little birds torment, their homes destroy,
And steal their eggs, might never mo-s annoy.
One day the nest's frail weight, O mournful sound,
Broke down the feeble wood-work to the ground;
The labor of the parent birds was void—
The instinctive hope of motherhood destroyed.
And now the hour when fellow-birds' distress
Might challenge sympathy and kindliness,
And the charity so richly blest,
Which freely flown in every pious breast.
The barn-yard poultry and a sparrow pert
Were witness of our hapless swallow's hurt,
And forth with uttered each ill-comment wise
Upon the matter than before his eyes!
The sparrow first: "I knew 'twould fall;
When last I was upon the roof, to all
'Twas plain the nest was in a place too frail
To hope it might endure the gentlest gale."
A goose: "Th—ah! how stupid thus to dare
To build a nest so high up in the air!"
"Quack quack!" a duck said; "had she come to me
I would have taught her how more wise to be,
And so to lay her eggs in careful plight
That they might not be smashed to ruin quite."
"Cluck cluck!" a hen said, "so could I have told
How to hatch them; to say this I'm bold,
Because, good neighbor duck, as well you know,
I have hatched you sets, and may again do so."
A turkey strutting round, with accent rough,
And feathers proudly spread in many a puff,
Cried 'Gobble! gobble! Fools if people choose
To be, the consequence they can't refuse."
The patient swallow, of such words at last
Impatient, said, her eyes around her cast,
"My friends, I thank you for the interest kind
You take in my affairs, but feel inclined;
To say, with all respect and courtesy due,
If thus unwise my building seemed to you,
And you were sure my house was going to fall,
With such misfortune grievous to us all,
How great the pity you no sooner gave
Us all the proofs of your wisdom grave!"
So when parents of ill have shown mistake,
And things are done, what bustle people make
With grave comment; "I could have told you so;
If you had asked for my advice, I know
I'd have advised you better." But, indeed,
When wisdom might be kind, and we might heed
Its word with use, we never hear the sound,
When not of use, our Solomons abound.

To the Honorable the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court now in session at Bangor, within and for the County of Penobscot.

Respectfully libels and gives this Honorable Court to be informed, Alpha Ann Park, of Veazie, in said County, that she was lawfully married to her husband, Thomas E. Park of Bangor, in said County, August 20th, 1857, at Galveston in the State of Texas by a Presbyterian clergyman of Galveston, and has since had by him two children, a boy, Pliny H. Park who will be fifteen years old June 3, 1873, born in Galveston, and a girl, Cordelia O. Park, eleven years of age, May 16, 1873, born in New Orleans, La.

That in 1862, the libelant and her said husband came north and after residing three months in Massachusetts, came to the State of Maine and resided and co-habited with her said husband at West Paris, in Oxford County, in said State. That they afterwards resided at Quincy Point, Massachusetts, at which place your Libelant says that her said husband deserted her, leaving with her twenty dollars in money, only, which is the last contribution either of money, clothing or provisions which he has made to your Libelant since that time which was in June, 1868 or 1867.

That since that time in 1868, your Libelant came to the State of Maine and has ever since resided here, but that her said husband has not co-habited with her nor has he in any way contributed to your Libelant's support, though he has supported both said children until during the past six months, when he failed to provide for them and has left for parts unknown, though a your Libelant thinks and has reason to believe is now in or near Chicago, in the State of Illinois.

And your Libelant further alleges that during the past six years, [illegible] supported herself entirely, by the labor of her hands and is now compelled, and, to support said minor children [illegible] reasonable and proper, conducive to domestic harmony and consistent with the peace and morality of society, that a divorce be decreed to her from the bonds of matrimony now existing between herself and her said husband, and that the custody of her said minor children may be committed and intrusted to her during their minority and for a reasonable alimony out of his estate. And as in duty bound will ever pray.

[illegible] the United States of America and His Majesty the King of Denmark, [illegible] citizens of the United States of America who have emigrated, or who may emigrate, from the United States of America to the Kingdom of Denmark, and of Danish subjects who have emigrated, or who may emigrate, from the Kingdom of Denmark to the United States of America, have resolved to conclude a convention for that purpose, and have named as their plenipotentiaries; that is to say, the President of the United States of America, Michael J. Cramer, minister resident of the United States of America at Copenhagen; and His Majesty the King of Denmark Otto Ditlev Baron Rosenorn-Lehn, commander of Danebrog and Danebrogsmand, chamberlain, His Majesty's minister for foreign affairs, &c., &c., &c.:

Who, after having communicated to each other their respective full powers, found to be in good and due form, have agreed upon and concluded the following articles, to wit:

ARTICLE I.

Citizens of the United States of America who have become, or shall become, and are, naturalized, according to law, within the Kingdom of Denmark as Danish subjects, shall be held by the United States of America to be in all respects and for all purposes Danish subjects, and shall be treated as such by the United States of America.

In like manner, Danish subjects who have become or shall become, and are naturalized, according to law, within the United States of America as citizens thereof, shall be held by the Kingdom of Denmark to be in all respects and for all purposes as citizens of the United States of America, and shall be treated as such by the Kingdom of Denmark.

ARTICLE II.

If any such citizen of the United States, as aforesaid, naturalized within the Kingdom of Denmark as a Danish subject, should renew his residence in the United States, the United States government may, on his application, and on such conditions as that government may see fit to impose, readmit him to the character and privileges of a citizen of the United States, and the Danish government shall not, in that case, claim him as a Danish subject on account of his former naturalization.

In like manner, if any such Danish subject, as aforesaid, naturalized within the United States as a citizen thereof, should renew his residence within the Kingdom of Denmark, His Majesty's government may, on his application, and on such conditions as that government may think fit to impose, readmit him to the character and privileges of a Danish subject, and the United States government shall not, in that case, claim him as a citizen of the United States on account of his former naturalization.

ARTICLE III.

If, however, a citizen of the United States, naturalized in Denmark, shall renew his residence in the former country without the intent to return to that in which he was naturalized, he shall be held to have renounced his naturalization.

In like manner, if a Dane, naturalized in the United States shall renew his residence in Denmark without the intent to return to the former country, he shall be held to have renounced his naturalization in the United States.

The intent not to return may be held to exist when a person naturalized in the one country shall reside more than two years in the other country.

ARTICLE IV.

The present convention shall go into effect immediately on or after the exchange of the ratifications, and shall continue in force for ten years. If neither party shall have given to the other six months' previous notice of its intention then to terminate the same, it shall further remain in force until the end of twelve months after either of the contracting parties shall have given notice to the other of such intention.

ARTICLE V.

The present convention shall be ratified by the President of the United States of America, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate thereof, and by His Majesty the King of Denmark; and the ratifications shall be exchanged at Copenhagen as soon as may be, within eight months from the date hereof.

In witness whereof the respective plenipotentiaries have signed the same, and have affixed thereto their respective seals.

Done at Copenhagen, the twentieth day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two.

MICHAEL J. CRAMER,
O. D. ROSENORN-LEHN.

And whereas, the said convention has been duly ratified on both parts, and the respective ratifications were exchanged at Copenhagen, on the 14th day of March, 1873, by Michael J. Cramer, minister resident of the United States of America at Copenhagen, and Otto Ditlev Rosenorn-Lehn, commander of Danebrog and Danebrogsmand, chamberlain, His Majesty's minister for foreign affairs, &c., on the part of their respective governments:

Now, therefore, be it known that I, Ulysses S. Grant, President of the United States of America, have caused the said convention to be made public, to the end that the same, and every clause and article thereof, may be observed and fulfilled with good faith by the United States and the citizens thereof.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington, this [illegible] day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three, and of the Independence of the United States of America the ninety-seventh.

U. S. GRANT.

By the President:
HAMILTON FISH, Secretary of State.

By the President of the United States of America.

A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas objects of interest to the United States require that the Senate should be convened at twelve o'clock on the fourth of March next, to receive and act upon such communications as may be made to it on the part of the Executive:

Now, therefore, I, Ulysses S. Grant, President of the United States, have considered it to be my duty to issue this proclamation, declaring that an extraordinary occasion requires the Senate of the United States to convene for the transaction of business at the Capitol, in the city of Washington, on the fourth day of March next, at twelve o'clock noon on that day, of which all who shall at that time be entitled to act as members of that body are hereby required to take notice.

Given under my hand and the seal of the United States, at Washington, the twenty-first day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three, and of the Independence of the United States of America the ninety-seventh.

TREATY.

Agreement between the United States and Spain, for the settlement of certain Claims of citizens of the United States, made by Daniel E. Sickles, Esq., Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States at Madrid, and His Excellency Senor Don Cristino Martos, Minister of State of Spain. Conclude February [illegible]

Memorandum of an arbitration for the settlement of the claims of citizens of the United States, or of their heirs, against the government of Spain, for wrongs and injuries committed against their persons and property, or against the persons and property of citizens of whom the said heirs are the legal representatives, by the authorities of Spain, in the island of Cuba, or within the maritime jurisdiction thereof, since the commencement of the present insurrection.

1. It is agreed that all such claims shall be submitted to arbitrators, one to be appointed by the secretary of State of the United States, another by the Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of Spain at Washington, and these two to name an umpire who shall decide all questions upon which they shall be unable to agree; and in case the place of either arbitrator or of the umpire shall from any cause become vacant, such vacancy shall be filled forthwith in the manner herein provided for the original appointment.

2. The arbitrators and umpire so named shall meet at Washington within one month from the date of their appointment, and shall, before proceeding to business, make and subscribe a solemn declaration that they will impartially and carefully examine to the best of their judgment, and according to public law and the treaties in force between the two countries and these present stipulations, all such claims as shall, in conformity with this agreement, be laid before them on the part of the government of the United States; and such declaration shall be entered upon the record of their proceedings.

3. Each government may name an advocate to appear before the arbitrators or the umpire, to represent the interests of parties respectively.

4. The arbitrators shall have full power, subject to these stipulations, and it shall be their duty, before proceeding with the hearing and decision of any case, to make and publish convenient rules prescribing the time and manner of the presentation of claims and of the proof to be given in support thereof, and any disagreement with reference to the said rules of proceeding shall be decided by the umpire. It is understood that a reasonable period shall be allowed for the presentation of the proofs, the claims, and the testimony in favor of them [illegible]

5. The arbitrators shall have jurisdiction of all claims presented to them by the government of the United States for injuries done to citizens of the United States by the authorities of Spain in Cuba since the first day of October, 1868. [illegible] of the tribunals in Cuba concerning [illegible] United States made in the absence of [illegible] parties [illegible] or in violation of international law [illegible] of the guarantees, and forms provided for [illegible] treaty of October 27, 1795, between the United States and Spain, may be reviewed by the arbitrators, who shall make such award in respect to them as they shall deem just. No judgment of a Spanish tribunal, disallowing the affirmation of a party that he is a citizen of the United States, shall prevent the arbitrators from hearing a reclamation presented in behalf of said party by the United States government; [illegible]

Inasmuch as the Postal Administration of the Swiss Confederation and that of the United States of America have been authorized by the Additional Article of February 23d, 1872, to the Postal Convention of the 12th of October, 1867, to establish, as it may seem best to each, the rates of commission charged in its own country for International Postal Orders, and to arrange by common agreement for a division of the proceeds thereof, the Postal Department of the Swiss Confederation and the Post-office Department of the United States of America have agreed upon what follows:

THE PORTLAND

KEROSENE OIL COMPANY

Would inform the public, that they continue to manufacture

PORTLAND KEROSENE OIL.

The prevalence of a large quantity of inferior and dangerous oils in the market, at a cheap price—many of which are little better than Naptha itself—and the existence of false reports in regard to the "PORTLAND KEROSENE OIL," render it a matter of justice to ourselves as well as safety to consumers, that some notice should be taken of these facts. Therefore, we again present an advertisement, and would call attention to the high standard of our Oils. The Refined Petroleum, the fire test of which is 122°, and the Portland Kerosene, the fire test of which is [illegible] degrees Fahrenheit, and often reaches considerably high r; also, we would say that we are determined to maintain their long established reputation.

PORTLAND KEROSENE OIL COMPANY.

We quote from chap. 39 R. S. 1871, the title of said chapter being "Inspection and sale of Manufactured Articles."

SEC. 31. Every person and corporation engaged in manufacturing petroleum, coal oil or burning fluid, shall cause every cask or other vessel thereof to be so inspected and marked, by a sworn inspector, or, if any such manufacturer or seller such oil or burning fluid not so inspected and marked in this State or that has not been so inspected and marked as unsafe for illuminating purposes, he shall pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or be imprisoned six months in the county jail, on indictment therefor.
